

Chapter 22

CD-ROM Databases

Applications in the CDROM Databases group allow you to do the following:

- C Access information on health-related topics.
- C Select computer software and hardware.
- C Disconnect from the CD-ROM drive.

Accessing the CD-ROM Databases Group

To access the CDROM Databases group from Program Manager:

1. Double-click on the CDROM Databases group icon.

Program-item icons appear in the CDROM Databases group window.

CDROM Databases
group window

CDROM Access Application

CDROM Access Application allows you to search and retrieve information from database applications stored on compact discs (CDs).

Accessing CDROM Access Application

To access CDROM Access Application:

1. Double-click on the CDROM Access Application icon in the CDROM Databases group window.

CD-Exec window

Using the On-line Help

The on-line Help provides information on how to perform tasks and use Help.

To access Help:

1. Choose a command from the Help menu.
- OR-
1. Press F1 on the keyboard to display the Help Index.

Exiting CDRom Access Application

To exit CDRom Access Application:

1. Double-click on the Control-menu box, or choose Exit from the File menu.

Disconnect CD-ROM Drive

Disconnect CD-ROM Drives is a tool that disconnects your computer from the CD-ROM drive.